Visual Cultures in Southeast Europe: globalization, gender, power and resistance, 10th InASEA Congress - Graz, 24-26 September 2020

Visual representation has been crucial in shaping the understanding about people, cultures, resistance, class, gender, ethnicity and more. In the digital era, also called the age of social media, and hypermediacy this has become even more evident as societies create and are confronted with images and multiplicities of representations ever more frequently. The overall visibility has economized the written text in order to be more efficient in reaching certain audiences. Visual cultures today have no place or space of origin; they are migrating globally and are understood and interpreted locally. Visual cultures, as practices and manifestations of life that are expressed through visual aspects and interpreted through individual and shared experiences, will be considered at this conference through special focus on globalization, power, gender and resistance. Therefore, “Visual cultures in SEE”, are unfolding in this tension between the local and the global. (Read more)

Ankica Čakardić, Ustajte, prezrene na svijetu. Tri eseja o Rosi Luxemburg (Rosa-Luxemburg-Stiftung Southeast Europe, 2019)

Prvo krilo tog triptiha čitateljicu vodi kroz ključne putanje životopisa Rose Luxemburg dočaravajući kako njen povijesni značaj za marksističku i feminističku teoriju i politiku, tako i osebujni karakter, misaonost, osjećajnost i životnost ove revolucionarke posebnog intimno-javnog etičkog kova i poetskog tkanja. Centralna ploča «triptiha o Rosi» koji nam Čakardić donosi jeste i temeljna – sadrži analizu relevantnosti ekonomske misli Rose Luxemburg u Akumulaciji kapitala i njene dijalektike prostornosti za današnje feminističko-marksističke teorije društvene reprodukcije. Konačni segment triptiha daje pregled kako je tokom 20. stoljeća na prostorima Jugoslavije preveden opus Rose Luxemburg, a kako je interpretiran i skrajnut i/li zanemaren u naučnoj misli i intelektualnom životu u doba socijalizma, što svakako današnjoj domaćoj marksističkoj i feminističkoj produkciji mora biti i opomena i lekcija.
